

Hello,

It is truly busy around my house right now. My parents and sisters are all helping to organize my Third Annual Walk for Epilepsy. We are busy selling ads for the T-Shirts (only 7 spots left for ads at this time). Collecting prizes for the raffle has also been keeping us busy. But my community has been great! Most of the businesses we have spoken to have signed up for a prize for the raffle. If you have ideas or would like to donate a prize to the raffle please let me know. I really do have a great community! We are also busy getting people to sign up to walk on May 3rd or to sponsor a walker directly if they can't attend the walk. If you want to walk please download a sponsor form HERE. I have been receiving updates from many of my friends and directly from the Epilepsy Foundation of North Eastern New York on the number of people that want to be a part of the walk it is really nice!!!

As of this writing, it is only 11 days until I leave for Washington. I am starting to get a little nervous but I am planning my "speech" to my representatives on Capital Hill. I am also very excited to take this trip and the opportunity it has opened up to me. It is not often that someone my age gets to be heard in Washington.

As well I am looking forward to the National Walk for Epilepsy in D.C. My sponsorship for this event is currently at 80% of my goal and I am still looking for individuals to sponsor me. If you are interested in sponsoring me please click HERE to go to the sponsor form. Credit cards are accepted as payment.

There is no new news on the book front, but it is all moving ahead smoothly and on schedule.

Well, time to get back to my speech writing. I will write everyone when I get back from Washington D.C. to let you know how it went.

Thank you,

Sara-Elizabeth

If you would no longer like to receive these updates from itsnotwhoiam.com please email webmaster@itsnotwhoiam.com and in the subject line please type Remove.